Punch Board Confiscated, And One Man Arrested For Unlawful Possession of a Gun—Raid Sequence to a Number of Complaints of Liquor Manufacture

Twelve state troopers, under the direction of John Tomic, raided 15 houses in the Gallatin district,across from Monongahela City, yesterday afternoon. Eight arrests were made, and a number of stills wre found in the houses raided, together with two 50 gallon barrels of hootch and mash. The confiscated liquor was taken to Monongahela, where it was put in the detention room to await orders. Among those placed under arrest were: John P.Jones, proprietor of the Jones hotel on the East End of the Monongahela bridge, Alex Decross, Tony Campi, Joseph Linzi, in whose residence a 20-gallon keg of whiskey was found, Tony Calubro, where a punch board was confiscated; John Redert was also placed under arrest for the unlawful possession of a gun.

A number of complaints have been made by residents of Gallatin to the police that liquor was being made in that district and yesterday was chosen as the day to make the raid.

$1,000 FIRE AT ROSCOE TODAY

Flames, presumably having their origin from the chimney, caused a loss to the interior of the dwelling of John Otto, Roscoe, at 2 o'clock this morning, of $1,000.

The family were routed from their beds at this unseemly hour, and succeeded in removing from the building their furniture and personal effects. Roscoe firemen plied chemicals on the blaze, but fearing spread of the fire, called the Charleroi Fire department, who did excellent work in holding the flames to the burned structure and in assisting the Roscoe firemen in squelching the fire. Damage was done entirely to the house, by fire, smoke and water.

TWO WOMEN TAKE POISON IN A MOVIE THEATRE

Chicago, Jan. 29—(United Press)—Mrs. Marie Osborn Block, 21 bride of a month,and Miss Bernice Hinman 20, a bride to be, swallowed poison in a movie theatre here late yesterday and died last night.

Despondency, brought on by separation from her husband, caused Mrs. Block to take poison, police believe. Miss Hinman either took poison on a dare or also was despondent because of her chum's misfortune. police held.

Mrs. Block's home is in Arlington, Ky., while Miss Hinman, who lived here with a sister, has a mother in Fon Du Lac, Wis.

Late yesterday they saw "a self-made wife" and swallowed poison. Mrs. Block staggered into the arms of the manager of the movie house and collapsed. She died in a hospital. Miss Hinman was found unconscious in the rest room and she died a few hours later.

State Is Doing Its Share For Folk With Tuberculosis

Harrisburg, Jan. 29—(United Press)—Pennsylvania has in its three sanitoria, 1550 free beds for tuberculosis patients, which is not only more free beds than any state in the union, but more, state maintained, free beds than all the other states put together.

Secretary of Health Charles H. Miners, gave this answer today to the question: "What is the present administration doing to assist in the eradication of tuberculosis?"

Charges have been made that the State Health Department is unable to cope with this disease due to the cut in the appropriation, and at the recent session of the State Tuberculosis society, it was specifically charged the Health Department is passing the burden along to the counties.

"It is the duty of Health Departments to conserve the lives of the people," said Dr. Miner. "When the lives of groups of individuals with incipient tuberculosis may be saved to become useful citizens of the state, it is a proper expenditure of public money.

"We have today in the three sanitaria of Pennsylvania 1550 free beds. To insure the greatest good for the greatest number themajority of these beds are given over to early or incipient cases

"The state is at present conducting 96 tuberculosis clinics, each attended by at least one paid physician and one or more state nurses. The Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, the Red Cross, and kindred organizations, which have at all times cooperated with the state health authorities, have been of incalculable assistance to the State Department of Health in its campaign against tuberculosis."

Dr. Miner paid tribute to Dr. Samuel Dixon, former commissioner of health, who inaugurated the campaign against tuberculosis in Pennsylvania. "He established free clinics all over the state and free tuberculosis sanitoria for the poor," said Dr. Miner.

"In 1906, out of a population of 7,941,000 in Pennsylvania there were 9258 deaths from tuberculosis of the lungs. In the year 1922, with a population increased by almost two millions, there were 2396 less deaths; the first ten months of the year 1923 shows a reduction of 143 deaths over the corresponding period for 1922."

A Lock No. 4 Boy Is Missing; Mother Worried

Officers of the law throughout this section, have been asked to be on the lookout for Joseph Brassert, 18 years old, son of Mrs. Pauline Brassart of Lock No. 4. The young man has been missing from his home since Friday, January 25.

Mr. Brassart was employed at a Monessen mill, and drew his pay on the day mentioned, since which time he has not been seen, nor is any word from him forthcoming.

The young man wore a light brown overcoat, and gray cap, and is five feet, 10 inches in height. He may be easily identified by a scar on his upper lip, which is the result of a recent operation.

The boy was last seen in the company of Roger Gillot, aged 19, of this borough, who is also missing from his home. Mrs. Brassart is much worried over the disappearance of her son, and any information anent him will be gratefully received. Call 263-W Charleroi on the Bell telephone.

A decree has been handed down by the court in the following: Paul R. Nutt, vs. Pennsylvania Railroad company—Defendant's motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict of the jury is refused. This suit arose from an accident in Charleroi in which the plaintiff was badly injured when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by an engine of the defendant company. The court finds that this was an issue for the jury and its finding that the plaintiff was not guilty of contributory negligence was warranted by the evidence.

Two suits to recover $4,500 for alleged damages to automobile trucks struck by electric cars of the defendant company in Monongahela, have been filed against the Pittsburgh Railways company.

S. R. Calvert, manufacturer of ice cream and soft drinks, at Monongahela, sues for $3,000 as damages to his truck which was struck by an electric car of the defendant company on August 29, 1923, on Main street, Monongahela. The machine was a Diamond T refrigerating truck. It was struck by an electric car and damaged. It is charged that the accident occurred at a curve and that the motorman was not giving attention to the road ahead. It is also alleged that the motorman failed to give a signal.

The other is a suit to recover $1,500 brought by Elizabeth Smith, Slyvester Ruffing and William Herron, partners trading as the Smith Coal company, of Monongahela. The accident occurred on the same date on which the Calvert truck was struck. The plaintiff's truck was across Main street, Monongahela, trying to back into an alley when it was struck by an electric car of the defendant company.

FUMES FROM A GAS JET CAUSE OF MAN'S DEATH

George Tomaskovith, aged 40 years, was found dead in bed in his rooming house at 312 Schoonmaker avenue, Monessen, Friday morning. Death was due to carbon monoxide gas.

Tomaskovith went to his room Friday morning, and when his landlady opened the door of his room later in the day, saw him stretched across the bed presumably resting. She closed the door and thought no more of the man. Saturday when she returned and finding the man in the same position as the previous morning, decided to investigate. She found him dead. The authorities were immediately notified and an investigation followed. Friday morning was very cold, and it is supposed the man lighted the gas jet in an effort to promote more heat in his room. All the doors and windows were securely locked and it is thought the fumes from the gas caused his death.

He is a single man. One known brother in Monessen survives him.

Badly Burned By Fall Into Scalding Water

Mary Vopulies, 11 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vopulies, of Monongahela, was badly burned about the legs and body yesterday afternoon when she fell backwards into a tub of scalding water.

The girl was helping her mother with a washing and in some manner she slipped while lifting a basket of clothes from a table in the kitchen and fell into the water. Due to how painful burns it was deemed advisable to remove her to a hospital. Later the child's condition was reported as slightly improved, although her condition is considered serious by the attending physician.

UNITY FOR WORK IN PEACE

Indianapolis, January 29—Unity of America and Poland for work in peace was the hope expressed by General Josef Haller, Polish war hero, in his farewell message to members of the American Legion, whose guest he has been during an extended tour of the country. His trip occupied nearly ninety days, beginning with a visit to the President at the White House, including a trip across the continent to the Legion's National Convention at San Francisco, and concluding with a spectacular farewell demonstration as he sailed from New York on the Majestic.

The distinguished Pole was greeted enthusiastically by city officials, members of Polish colonies and Legionnaires every where he went. The principal honor accorded him was his reception Legion convention in San Francisco, which he had been invited to attend as an official guest. While there General Haller was decorated with the distinguished service emblem of the Legion, worn by but seven others.

In expressing his thanks to National Commander John R. Quinn, in a letter just received at national headquarters of the Legion in Indianapolis, General Haller said:

"I would like to assure you that the Polish veterans in your country who number about one million, will always stand for the noble principles of your splendid organization. I hope that through the co-operation of our two nations, closer bonds of friendship will bring real happiness to the world, as our principles are the same."

During the Polish leader's visit, he particularly noted the adaption of the former service man to commercial life his letter said, noting "the happy homes, the contentment and prosperity of those liberty-loving and unwarlike lads." He said that he would return home with the determination to "tell the great Polish Republic of her sincere American friend, one who will stand with Poland in time of trouble."

The tour included visits to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington, the tombs of Washington, Grant Lincoln and Roosevelt. At the national convention of the American Legion, he decorated the colors of the organization with the Officer's Order of Polonia Rosituta, an honor also accorded to the American Red Cross, and the Polish Army Veteran's Association of America.

Monongahela Is Coming Here This Evening

The Monongahela City High School basket ball teams both boy's and girl's, will be the attraction at the high school gymnasium tonight. This is the first [illegible] schools this season and judging from the records of all four teams thus far this season a lively session is in order.

The preliminary game will begin at 7 p. m. and the boys will get going at 8 sharp. Mates will referee the boy's game.

The management of the Greensburg High School basket ball team very unexpectedly cancelled the two games that had been scheduled, one for February 8 and the return game to be at Greensburg on February 26. The reason for this cancellation on the part of Greensburg is fact that basket ball is receiving very little support in that town this season and they are forced to cancel their big games.

Those holding 124 basket ball schedule cards will please note this cancellation. It is quite likely that the boys will play a return game with Waynesburg High School on either February 8 or 9.

DRIVER KILLING TWO IN LAW'S TOILS

Andy Sulkasky, aged 35, of Cokeburg, driver of the automobile which left the road and crashed against a tree near McDonald Sunday night, killing two persons, was placed under arrest last night at his home at Cokeburg, by Chief of Police Schons, of McDonald, and Chief of Police Keisling, of Carnegie.

Sulkasky disappeared immediately after the accident and was not located although a search was started for him immediately. His whereabouts were unknown until he returned to Cokeburg last night. He told the officers he had remained in hiding in a McDonald home until yesterday afternoon when he hired a car to take him to his home at Cokeburg.

Chief of Police Keisling, of Carnegie, believes that Sulkasky, because of mysterious actions and the fact that he tallies with the description given of a man implicated in a robbery at Moon Run, may be wanted and he was taken to Carnegie last night. An effort to identify him will be made today.

Mike Valinski, aged 40, who was so seriously wounded when pinned under the machine after it overturned, died in the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. No hope was entertained for his recovery from the first.

Dr. And Mrs. King Are Introduced By Rev. Dr. Deitterich, Pastor of Donora Lutheran Church—Clergy In Addresses —Musical Program Features

Last night the laity congregation, and friends of Christ Lutheran church to the number of 225, gathered at the church and formally welcomed in reception the new pastor of the denoimnation, the Rev. Dr. C. B. King, and Mrs. C. B. King.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. King were formally introduced by the Rev. Dr. Deitterich, pastor of the Donora Lutheran church. The introduction was preceded by an address by D. F. Worthington, president of the church council.

Three-minute addresses were made by the Rev. Paul Kimports, pastor of the Monongahela Lutheran church; by the Rev. Dr. E. H. Greenlee, pastor of the Charleroi Methodist Episcopal church; by the Rev. Robert J. Shields, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. H. H. Wilson, pastor of the First Baptist church; the Rev. Dr. Frederick C. Lake, pastor of the First Christian church, and the Rev. Svasko of the Slovak Lutheran church.

The Rev. Dr. King made a talk which was well received by the auditors, and created a most favorable impression.

The reception committee was comprised of Mrs. D. F. Worthington, Mrs. James Sharp, Mrs. Greer, and Mrs. Eliza Gillingham, and at the conclusion of the program, it led the concourse headed by Dr. and Mrs. King, to the basement of the edifice, where befitting edibles had been prepared. During this part of the program, Fred Wallace sang, "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses." He was accompanied by Ralph Wallace. Miss May Brickner rendered a solo, and a piano duet by the Misses Alberta and Marie Braun also feat-

NEW PROGRAM OF VETERANS' RELEASE

Washington, January 29 (United Press)—A complete new program of was veterans release was proposed to the Senate today in a preliminary report of the select committee on investigation of the veterans' bureau.

"The committee believed that certain changes in the law governing the veteran bureau and regulating release for disabled veterans are urgently required and in consideration thereof by the senate at the earliest possible moment," the report said.

"The present condition of the statutes on this subject gives rise to great confusion both in the senate and among the disabled veterans themselves, condification of the statutes is essential and should not wait upon the completion of the committee's report on the matter in which theveteran bureau has been administered in the past."

TO TRY AND HALT BOOZE THAT IS BEING SENT HERE

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 29—(United Press)—It was announced today that the government is preparing a system to be inaugurated soon to halt the flow of Canadian beer and liquor into the United States. It is expected before the opening of parliament on February 28, "wet goods" from this side of the border into United States will be completely dammed.

The announcement is the aftermath of the international rum-running conference held in the Canadian capital two months ago. Much secrecy surrounds the plan of the customs department to co-operate with the United States federal prohibition department.

NOTICE TO THE BOY SCOUTS OF BOROUGH OF CHARLEROI

The regular meeting of Troop No. 1, Charleroi Boy Scouts, will take place Wednesday, January 30, at the Borough Building, starting promptly at 7 o'clock. Please review First Aid and the Semaphone Code. [illegible]

Charging that officers made an unlawful search of his home, William Abel, owner of a boat house on the Monongahela river here, has filed a petition asking the court to return one copper wash boiler seized in the raid. The defendant resides with his family in this house boat.

The petition sets forth that during the night of January 22, 1924, West Corey, accompanied by Chief of Police James A. Murphy and Officers Peters and Ross, entered the house boat and without a lawful warrant searched the said boat occupied as a dwelling by Abel and his family.

The officers took possession of a copper wash boiler, which had no coil, cock, tubing, or fixtures of any kind attached thereto. It is alleged that the said search and seizure was in violation of the fourth and fifth [illegible] the United States and in violation of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Abel was arrested and the petition sets forth that the wash boiler is now in the possession of the district attorney, who purposed to use it as evidence at the trial against Abel.

LABOR'S REWARD.

Miss Alvera Chalfant and Miss Margaret Knight are two students of the graduating class who especially distinguished themselves during the days of school and up to the time of their final honors. Credit is due each and every member of the class for all successes that they achieved; but in the cases of the two ladies mentioned, it is particularly noteworthy, inasmuch as they have attained the highest percentage marks yet attained by any member of a graduation class as reflects the Charleroi High school.

Congratulations come, honors accrued to them as a result of labor's reward; but in a larger sense, we take it, is the fact that through perseverance and application they reached the high acme of success. Their honors were not handed to them on golden platters; they had to be attained by virtue of hard work and a conscientious sense of their duty, not only to themselves, but to their parents, and their instructors. They did not weary at the fount of instruction, but pressed forward with a zeal which promises for them, if followed out in the avenues of life, success commensurate with that obtained as students of the Charleroi schools.

Talent and ability applied can but be countenanced. The world is surfeited today with people who lack talent, initiative, and industry, three essentials which are necessary in the career of each graduate of the local high school, and particularly do they apply to the young ladies who attained such remarkable percentage in their studies. Success, barring ill health or accident, must be their inevitable lot in life and the schools of which they are representative, and their parents, all who call them their friends, have every reason to be proud of the young ladies and their achievements.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

That the authorities of Charleroi mean business was demonstrated by the raid made by the police department early Monday morning. Henceforth, it is said, that the law cannot be flagrantly transgressed in known places of gambling—public, not private gambling houses. That men will gamble privately, is known; but places where gambling is carried on, with the "rake-off," are known to the officers, they have been warned, and the police are to be industrious in effort in seeing to it that the provisions of law are obeyed, and not transgressed.

The best element of Charleroi and community will put their sanction of approval on the exercise by the authorities of their prerogatives and duty in stamping out lax violations. The borough has a number of characters who make their living by their "wits," ostensibly, but who, in the opinion of law-abiding folk is by ways that will not bear the public searchlight. We cannot reasonably expect a 100 percent law-abiding town, laws are being violated here day by day, but the authorities can, through the proper channels, see to it that the borough approaches this acme of perfection as nearly as possible.

What the World Is Doing

AS SEEN BY POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE

Cycling on Snow and Ice

SEASONABLY shod with a tread such as that shown in the illustration, the "bike" can be depended upon for winter sport, or ordinary uses over ice and snow. With ordinary tires, cycling is not only hard work in winter, but precarious; with the tread described here, however, good traction is assured, and the runner makes the machine easily handled.

The necessary materials are twenty 1⅞ by 3-in back-flap hinges, seventeen 5/16-in stove bolts 2½ in long, and four 3 in long; three strips of 26-gauge galvanized sheet steel, 2 by 30 in., ½ lb. rivets and washers, a pair of light 3-in strap hinges; a 3-in. T-hinge, a pair of 3-in butt hinges, a ⅜ by 4½-in machine bolt; six No. 14 screws, 3 in long; one 1-in. awning pulley, 2 ft of steel jack chain, No 16, ⅝-in. link; one screen-door spring, and a skate. For a 26-in wheel, one less back-flap hinge is used, nineteen 5/16 by 2½-in. bolts, and one 3-in bolt.

The twenty hinges are bent at each end at right angles, the lugs being ½ in. long, and the countersunk sides opposite the lugs. Beginning ½ in from the end of each galvanized strip, rivet the hinges to it and keeping them 2 in apart. Equip two of the strips with seven hinges, and one with six, then connect each hinge to the next with the 2½-in bolts. Cut the strips with ½-in ends, center them over the rim of the wheel, and connect the end hinges with the 3-in bolts. Tighten up all bolts, then, with pliers and hammer shape the sides of the strips to grip the rim.

From 1-in ash, cut a runner shoe, 3 in wide and 25 in long. Cut down 12 in at one end to ½-in or ⅝ in thick and taper the sides down to 2½ in wide. Steam the toe or soak it in hot water, then bend it to shape. The fork post fits below the head and is 2 in wide and 24 in long (22 in for a 26-in wheel); the hub block is 2 in. thick, 5 in long and 3½ in. wide and is bored to take the machine bolt with the post in place. To fasten the post below the head, shape the 3-in strap hinges to form a clip screw to the post and bolt behind the head. With a bit and keyhole saw, cut a ¾-in. slot, centered below the hub block, and extending down 4 in. at the front but only 2 in. at the back.

Cut the piece B of the runner, 2 by 3 in. long, and shape roughly a 3-in. side to fit the skate, placing the heel even with one end. If it is a clamp skate, remove the clamp and either drill screw holes or secure with three 3-in. mending plates as cleats. With the shoe shaped and dry, lay it over the skate with the toe end of B even with the shoulder of the shoe, and locate the skate toe. This point is the limit of the cutout in the shoe for the blade—a slit centered from the heel of the shoe.

Assemble the runner with the toe point of the skate set in about ¼ in. from the shoe bottom—so that there will be no possibility of "stubbing." At this end there will be perhaps an inch space between B and the shoe. Fit a wedge block here with the heel of the shoe brought up to block B and secure it with two 3-in. screws driven through B through the wedge and into the shoe. These must be countersunk ¼ in. and a washer or two used under each screw head. At the heel attach a 4-in butt hinge, three screws into B and screw in each side of the shoe, then cut off any waste heel. At the toe, rivet the 3-in. T-hinge as shown. Assemble the gear to the post with a 3-in. butt hinge centered on top of the B-block.

The 9-in. spring, pulley, and chain keep the runner "headed up" for easier steering, and safety when "jumping bumps." Back of the post, secure the pulley with a screweye set into the lower edge of the 2-in. opening. Cut the spring to length, and with another screweye, fasten one end, then connect up the chain around the pulley through the opening to the hinge on the toe of the shoe. With the runner off the ground, if the spring is pulled down to within about 4 in. of the pulley, the tension should be right.

After trying out this tread for a few minutes, tighten up any hinges on the tread if necessary.

MOTHERING THAT PAYS DIVIDENDS

The profession of motherhood is not supposed to be a well paid occupation. And foster mothers—who do for pay what real mothers gladly give from affection—are generally not highly regarded. Yet out in Phoenix lives a woman who mothers all the children in the state of Arizona gets paid for doing it, and has been honored by nearly every organization in the state.

When Mrs. H. A. Guild was a girl she loved her younger brothers and sisters. When she grew up and taught, she loved her pupils—even in the huge machinelike system of the Chicago schools. And when marriage brought no babies of her own, she began to love and foster public movements for bettering humanity. Out of this last love grew her present mothering job. She was the first woman in Arizona to be appointed head of a department of state. Secretary of the Arizona child welfare board, she now has supervision of all child welfare measures, working through 65 county child welfare board members. And in addition she is a foster mother to a child for every day in the year, for there are 365 orphan children who live in foster homes or with widowed mothers, as wards of Arizona.

"That's enough to keep any mother heart full to overflowing, isn't it? Even if the men and women of the state forget her, I imagine Mrs. Guild could keep happy. Furthermore she's owner of a tenacre ranch that has been turned from a sagebrush and cactus desert to a producer of roses and "long staple" cotton. The ranch owner organized the rural women of the state and brought them into association with their city sisters through district federations. Naturally the Federation of Women's Clubs made her state president.

Then Mrs. Guild decided that women who had the vote ought to use it politically. Not unnaturally she was the first Arizona woman sent to the national Republican convention in 1920. In 1922 she was nominated for representative to congress, and was defeated only because her whole party ticket was snowed under.

Knowing big city, small city, town and country intimately, Mrs. Guild declares that if a girl has ability there is always room on "Main Street" even though it may look crowded or empty of opportunity.

The thrill of pioneer days is in this magnificent novel. The hopes, the fears, the loves of men and women who struck out in the great open spaces of the West are what Emerson Hough has used to form a wonderful romance.

THE PRIDE OF PALOMAR—By Peter B. Kyne

A thrilling novel for red blooded Americans. It is a story that has to do with the days of the old ranchos, the days of the guitars in the moonlight, the days of beautiful Spanish women and men gallant and brave.

NEW LABOR HEADS CLEAR FIRST HURDLE

London, Jan 29—(United Press).—The new Labor government cleared its first hurdle through settlement of the National Rail strike which was reached at five o'clock this morning after an all-night conference of railway managers and union leaders.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald learned the good news over the telephone before breakfast and left for Edinburgh shortly afterwards on a private visit, smiling broadly in answer to cheers at the station, obviously a greatly relieved man.

J. Bromley, leader of the striking locomotive engineers, and firemen said after the conference broke up.

"The terms reached were most satisfactory. The men will return to work immediately."

Another strike official said the service would be back to normal by nightfall.

The rail strike lasted just eight days Members of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen went out at midnight on the 20th, after negotiations failed The strike was timed to coincide with wage reductions authorized by the national wage board, to which engineers and firemen objected.

The walk-out affected some 70,000 men; traffic was tied up on some lines, and ran disjointedly and spasmodically on others; there was some violence in Scotland, but no casualties; motor lorries and airplanes were used in great numbers to relieve the situation.

The strike was supposed to sound the death knell of the new labor government which came into power just as the strike started. But owing to the efforts of Tom Shaw, new minister of labor, Harry Gozling, minister of transport, J. H. Thomas, head [illegible] colonies, strikers and manager were finally brought together.

No representative of the government had a hand in the actual settlement which was fostered solely by a committee from the trades union congress. But the government is naturally tremendously pleased.

Instead of being wrecked by the strike weapon, the labor government may, as pointed out by the United Press on the day the strike started, gain credit therefrom. For the rail [illegible] ke was a heritage from the Baldwin government, and was settled promptly under the new labor regime.

THIS BRIGHT BABY GIRL

Scootac, Pa.—"I never felt like working, and when I would try to do any work standing on my feet, I would just drag around all day long. At times I would have terrible pains and would be in bed three or four days. I was in this condition about a year when I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers. I had heard different women say it was good for women's troubles and my aunt thought it would help me as it had helped her. So I took the Vegetable Compound and it brought things right, and I was in good shape before I became a mother again. I believe it helps at birth, too, as with both my other babies I suffered a great deal more than with this one. I thank you a thousand times for the good your medicine has done me. It has surely made our home a happy one."—Mrs. ROBERT PRICE, Scootac, via Lockhaven, Pa.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Forecasting A Tremendous Spring Demand

739,626

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE TAXPAYERS

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue, D. B. Heiner, of the Twenty-third District of Pennsylvania:

In the making of an income tax return for the year 1923, taxpayers of every class, business and professional men, salaried persons, wage earners and farmers should present to themselves for consideration the following questions:

Did you receive any interet on bank deposits?

Have you any property from which you received rent?

Did you receive any income in the form of dividends of interest from stocks or bonds?

Did you make any profit on the sale of stocks, bonds, etc?

Did you act as broker in any transaction for which you received a commission

Are you interested in any partnership of other firm from which you received income?

Have you any income from royalties or patents?

Are you working?

Have you control of the earnings of such children? If so, the amount must be included in the parent's return of income. Has your wife any income from any source whatever? If so, it must be included in your return, or reported in a separate return of income.

Did you receive any director's fees or trustees' fees in the course of the year?

Did you hold any office in a benefit society from which you received income?

Answers to these questions are necessary in the filing of a correct income tax return.

If single (or married and not living with wife) and the net income was $1,000 or more or the gross income $5,000 or more, or if married and living with wife and the couple's net income was $2,000 or more, or the gross income was $5,000 or more, a return is required. The fact that the income may not be taxed by reason of the personal exemption—$1,000 for single persons, $2,500 for married persons whose net income was $5,000 or less and $2,000 for married persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000, plus the $400 credit for each dependent—does not altar this requirement.

The filing period ends at midnight of March 15, 1924. Forms for filing returns may be obtained at the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., and the following branch offices: Johnstown, Du Bois, Erie, New Castle and Connellsville, Pa. Persons whose net income was $5,000 or less and was derived chiefly from salary or wages should ask for Form 1040A. Those whose net income was in excess of $5,000, or, regardless of the amount, was derived from business, profession or farming should ask for Form 1040

THE ANDERSON CASE TO THE JURY TODAY

New York, Jan. 29 — (United Press).—The Anderson case will go to the jury before nightfall, it was virtually assumed today.

Ex-Governor Whitman, counsel for the anti-saloon league superintendent on trial for third degree forgery, has agreed with Assistant District Attorney Pecora to keep the summations brief, and these and Justice Tompkin's charge to the jury are all that remain to be heard.

Two of the case's four mystery men who helped Anderson get and spend $25,000 in 1913 and 1911 were partly identified before the trial closed. Henry Mann and "Johnson" were declared real beings, if somewhat intangible. Millard J. Bloomer, self-styled publicity expert, said he had worked under Mann, getting out boiler plate matter for the anti-saloon league, and that he knew "Johnson."

By a curious coincidence, it developed that both Bloomer and Henry Mann, for their anti-saloon work, had offices in the Forty-second street building built by Asa Candler, millionaire manufacturer of Coca-Cola.

To the very end, the mysterious figure of "John T. King" who, Anderson says, gave the defendant $25,000 in 1913, remained unidentified

What Motorists Should Carry to Avoid A Delay

Washington, D. C., January 29—Emergency essentials which every motorist should carry in order to avoid inconvenient or dangerous delays on the road, are described in a statement issued by M. O. Eldridge of Washington, executive chairman of the American Automobile Association.

"With the new year many drivers are thinking of their cars and of the reconditioning necessary to put them in first class running order for the Spring," says Mr. Eldridge "In this connection special attention should be given to the making up of a kit for emergency use while on the road. The carrying of the few essentials listed here will avoid inconvenient delays and sometimes serious accidents. It is surprising how many motorists take the road while lacking equipment important to them than a supply of gasoline or a spare tire.

"The following should be in the car of every motorist at all times, in addition to the regular tool kit equipment.

"1. A pair of pliers. These will be found very useful in opening vacuum tanks, tightening bolts and in making adjustments to the motor.

"2. A pocket flashlight with extra battery cells. For making all kinds of repairs and adjustments after dark a good flashlight is invaluable. It is also useful in ascertaining the amount of gasoline in the tank, the reading of road signs, and working on tires, etc.

"3. A section of towing rope. Expensive tows may often be avoided if a light, compact cable be at hand, when the motor dies or heavy mud is encountered. Passing motorists will often help if a tow rope is available.

"4. A spark plug socket wrench. Many drivers carry extra plugs but no good wrench to remove the damaged plug and insert the spare.

"5. A set of tire chains. The dangers of slippery roads and heavy mud will be reduced to a minimum if chains are applied when needed.

"6. A tire pump. With the aid of a good pump much tire trouble and the ruining of tubes by driving them flat may be avoided

"7. A tire gauge. Maintaining the right air pressure at all times will go far to prolong the life of tires.

"8. Some kind of folding water bucket for refilling the radiator

"This list might be extended indefinitely, but the motorist who carries these essentials whenever he starts out in his car will find he has made provision for the majority of hazards encountered while driving."

FORMER GOVERNOR MAY SUPERVISE

London, Jan. 23—(United Press).—Former Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, W. P. G. Harding, is to be asked to act as disinterested supervisor of Hungary's finances, under the league of nations, it was reported here today.

$50,000,000 loan by the league to Hungary has been arranged, on condition that strict supervision of that country's finances be installed simultaneously

The plan to have an American as general supervisor arose out of a desire to have some one not interested in the lending end of the deal.

OIL LEASE SCANDAL TOPIC DISCUSSED

Washington, Jan. 29. — (United Press).—Overnight developments in the oil lease scandal, now engaging official Washington at all hours, made it appear that President Coolidge may become a direct target of attack of those who are demanding a complete cleanup in the present investigation.

The president, it was reported, is inclined at present to stand by his cabinet members. Friends of the president in the Senate represented him as feeling that charges that have been made against members of his inherited cabinet are not yet "sufficient for serious consideration."

One resolution, however, has already been introduced, demanding the resignation of Secretary Denby. Senator Walsh is scheduled to take further direct action against Denby today.

As a consequence Senator Caraway, for one, is prepared to turn the guns directly upon the White House. Mr. Coolidge was the first vice president to sit with the cabinet. Senator Walsh has called the Senate's attention to the Fall letter of June, 1922, in which the then secretary mentioned that the oil leases were discussed at cabinet meetings.

"Where was Mr. Coolidge when the cabinet was discussing the legality of the Teapot Dome lease?" Caraway intends to ask.

LADY IS A GUEST; CUPID ENTERS

A pleasing announcement has recently reached the home of Mrs. S. E. Rodgers of Fallowfield township, and in connection with which there is an interesting account.

Miss Mary Lunn of Columbus, O., a domestic science teacher in the Industrial school at Mexico City, a friend of the Rodgers family, was a guest at their home during the month of December. She left shortly after the holidays to resume her work at the school and while enroute was obliged to stop off at a Mexican town, unable to reach her destination, due to lack of communication of the railroad. During her enforced visit in that city, she accepted the hospitality of the home of Sam C. Rodgers, son of Mrs. S. E. Rodgers of this place, until such time that the railroad congestion would subside. However, she has now accepted the hospitality of his home indefinitely, for on Saturday, January 12, the couple were married.

SINCLAIR TO COME BACK AND ANSWER THE CHARGES MADE

Paris, Jan. 29.—(United Press).—Harry F. Sinclair will return to the United States as soon as possible to reply fully to charges of corruption in connection with leases his oil companies have obtained on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve he said in a telegram to Senator Lenroot today.

Sinclair reaffirmed his denial that he ever gave Albert S. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, or any other representative of the Harding government any money in consideration for the leases.

"I commend the action of President Coolidge in ordering prosecution of any guilty persons," Sinclair said, "and welcome a judicial determination of these questions."
